4. Date Palm Manor Historic District Discussion

Steve Stewart, Date Palm Manor Neighborhood

- Post-WWII Study identified Date Palm Manor as strong candidate for designation
- Opinion of HPC / HPO that DPM possesses high degree of integrity; encouraging application
- Q: What are the caveats pro's and con's; what does designation mean? A: Regional and national history of increased property values for comparable properties; Sense of pride / ownership; typically see higher owner-occupied properties; 50% in state property tax
- Any building permit application would trigger HPO / HPC review of modifications
- Major difference compared to Maple-Ash Neighborhood is multi-family zoning in MANA vs. single-family [R1-6] in Date Palm Manor; excluding commercial on the arterial fringe
- DPM has apartment buildings which may be part of original plat / period of significance
- DPM has 35 homes, and currently about 10 rentals

- Q: What are Prop 207 concerns? A: These are less important with DMP simply because of conformity of all single-family underlying zoning
- Q: What are the caveats to selling a home? What happens at that point in time? A: Historic 'H' overlay is parcel-based and stays in place regardless of owner[s]; normal review of proposed modifications required
- Q: What are the covenants / restrictions? A: The Tempe Historic Preservation Ordinance is available online; outlines review process which is mostly advisory to Council
- Q: How long would the designation process take? A: City process takes anywhere from 90 – 120 days with two [2] public hearings at CC, one [1] at DRC, one [1] at HPC and one [1] 'Neighborhood Meeting' – required by Ordinance
- City now requires property applicants to sign property waivers to hold city harmless from any Prop 207 claims for ANY and ALL zoning-related applications, including historic designation [available online]
- Q: What are the next steps? A: Set up information-only neighborhood meeting which would include a presentation on process, consequences, benefits, etc.
- Q: There exists 'odd' architecture in neighborhood. Who decides how much change is too much change? A: HPC / HPO can determine eligibility for local register, SHPO for State / Fed; City attempts to have parallel processes / eligibility requirements
- Request for letter from City to all DPM property owners and residents
- Likely use original plat as district boundaries
- Request to property owners for photos, documents, etc. related to DPM
- Richard Harris, ASU, study on date palms noted as potential source for historic information
- Neighborhood informational meeting scheduled for Saturday, 2 August 2008
- Determine meeting location availability with adjacent LDS Seminar Building near Tempe High School

3. Public Meeting for the designation of the Tempe [Hayden] Butte

[THPR #34 - pending]

- Chair read legal script for 'Public Meeting' requirement into record
- Q: Should SRP's transmitter house [1949] on top of Butte be listed as contributing or non-contributing element? Although age-eligible, not a significant use; being used as such today
- Recommend deleting the word 'landscape' which is not in ordinance and potentially confusing, as well as 'landmark' which has an entirely different meaning all together
- There are over 500 petroglyphs which related to the under-stated / represented archaeological component of the significance / designation – should be further developed
- Q: Should we limit the period of significance? A: No – Butte is important for broad / cultural / social period of significance during community's history
- Mexican-American and native Maricopa significance should be balanced
- Consensus to list transmitter house as contributing element
- Public comment: "I think it's great." - support for designation

MOTION: TO APPROVE THE DESIGNATION OF THE TEMPE [HAYDEN] TO THE TEMPE HISTORIC PROPERTY REGISTER [AP]; MOTION SECOND [LW]; APPROVED 6:0, WITH ALTERNATE MEMBERS MARCHAK AND MELCHER ALSO VOTING TO APPROVE.

5. Discussion ASU's Historic Preservation Coordinator

Patricia Olson

- Newly-appointed ASU Historic Preservation Coordinator Patti Olson
- Hiring marks new era for ASU, desire to improve relations from here
- Currently eight [8] buildings on ASU-Main Campus listed on NR [see map dated 5/29/2008]
- ARS requirement to identify, preserve, determine eligibility for and to make modifications according to the Secretary of Interior's Standards
